But I'm wondering if there is a way to give a role to that to avoid also giving access to other things in AWS. Thanks. A: Managed Kinesis Firehose is available now! With Firehose, S3 data is delivered directly from a stream, and therefore you have no additional access to S3 resources. More details can be found at: Q: Viewport clipping div using pure CSS I have a div that I want to be clipped to a particular viewport so that it's only displayed when the viewer is in a certain area of the webpage. I would prefer to not use a media query or javascript, if possible. I currently have the element as follows: Which does not seem to be doing what I expect... I just need to display the box inside the viewport. I'm not actually clipping the div, I'm only clipping the background to the background of the viewport, and the background is clipped to the background of the viewport. Any tips? A: Only way I know of is to use javascript or CSS media query - try to load a page on mobile device and see what happens :) A: If you can use HTML5
